HEALTHCARE WORKERS ARE

SICK AND TIRED

Lack of supplies, long days filled with traumatic encounters and tone-deaf calls to be more empathetic are causing compassion fatigue.

With empathetic user design and responsible artificial intelligence, humans will stop being forced to act as data routers, and patients can finally get the care they deserve.

Want more on empathetic tech?

Tap to read our article in the latest Olive Quarterly!

Olive Quarterly
2022 | Issue 1

WELL BEING